

PICKING TEAMS

In games the teacher asked Joanne and Kate to pick teams. They had to stand at the front. At first it wasn't too bad. Joanne picked Kirsty first, but then they're really good friends. Kate is always with Jane. But then it got to the end and it became really embarrassing. I was trying not to cry. Kate looked at me and I thought she was going to pick me but Jane said 'No, pick Elaine. Elaine.' So, she did. And then all the others were picked and it was just the two of us left. Joanne picked Emily and so I was left to go to Kate's team and they all looked disappointed. I started to cry. I was trying not to but it's horrible when no one wants you at all. Kate said, 'I wanted to pick you. Honest I did.' After that they weren't too bad. I wish the teacher would pick the teams. Then I wouldn't always be left to the end because everyone stares at you like you've got something wrong with you.
