

BULLIES ARE POPULAR

If there is any trouble in the class it is usually blamed on me because they know I can stand up for myself. I don't care about getting into trouble with the teachers whereas some people are like 'Wow. I got into trouble. What is that going to do with my marks?' And I'm always called a bully. I don't see what is so bad about being called a bully.

I'd rather be a bully than be bullied. And you've got more power, which is what it is all about really. Bullies are really popular. Even though you go around slagging for nothing, pushing, tripping, that sort of thing everyone wants to be with them. People want to keep on the right side of you. You ask them 'Can I sit there?' 'Sure.' 'Give me your sandwiches.' 'Sure' It's really amazing what you can get away with. And power makes you feel really important. People don't tell on you because (pause) they'd get it even more if they did. And who cares anyway? But who cares about all that? Everyone in the class is smarter than me, so why should they worry?
